Mary and Ed Lauer, and Delbert Main headed out last week on a four-day 'pleasure trip' of the area. The group took the covered wagons 20-25 miles per day and stayed at friends' places during the evenings. Mary Lauer said she hoped to get back home in time to take in an upcoming horse pull in Viking.

New municipality

Residents voice concern about education

By Frank Ryan

It will be at least four months before any decision is made on the new municipal district.

Ed Ewasuk, MLA for Edmonton/Beverly and the Municipal Affairs, Housing and Public Works critic for the official Opposition confirmed that during a visit to Drayton Valley last Wednesday.

Ewasuk said the Department of Education is doing their own study on the boundary issue. That's expected to be completed in October.

He said, that of the many

people he talked to during a mid-March trip to Drayton Valley, they expressed serious concerns over the education aspects of a new municipal district.

He also stated some of his own people in the area also mentioned the possibility of a boundaries commission study. But, he added, nothing came of that.

Ewasuk's information about the education study surfaced during a meeting he had last Monday with two deputy ministers from municipal affairs. He arranged the meeting in order to acquaint himself with the problems that currently exist.

He said people living in Breton don't want to see their kids bused to Drayton Valley. "Those are the kinds of concerns they have," said Ewasuk.

The Edmonton MLA said he was also told by the deputy ministers, the provincial government plans to proceed with the new municipal district in Jan. of '88.

He also stated the people he talked to about the formation of a new municipal district, mentioned keeping it hush-hush.

Couple safe, search called off

A full-scale search of the West Pembina area was abruptly called off last Wednesday afternoon when the subjects of the search turned up safely at home in Agassiz, B.C.

The search for the two missing persons, Zenon and Helen Sabat, began a day earlier when son Les, a local resident, reported to RCMP that his parents had not shown up at a pre-determined campsite Saturday morning (July 11).

Cpl. Tom Turner said the investigation ended when a daughter of the Sabats informed the RCMP her parents had arrived back home.

Apparently, they had entered a different campsite in the West Pembina area and considered their a son a no-show.

They fished for a couple of days then left for B.C.

Turner estimated the search cost about 25 man-hours, not including a day of surveillance by an aircraft on loan from K Division (Edmonton).

As part of the investigation gas and oil service companies were notified of Sabats' disappearance and it was requested "they fan out the information on the Sabats to all their employees," said Turner.

Auxiliary constable Glen Wood was called in to assist in the search because of his knowledge of the region.

Information on the missing persons was circulated to

RNA program dropped

By Frank Ryan

One of the most successful programs at the Pembina Educational Consortium has been dropped due to a lack of funding.

Joe MacLellan, executive director, confirmed last week the two-year-old registered nursing assistants program would not operate in 1987-88.

The 10-month program, operated out of the Drayton Valley hospital, was always filled to capacity, and as of last week 160 names were on the waiting list.

MacLellan says the program side of his budget has been cut from $240,000 to $200,000.

This comes despite every program at the consortium last year being full.

MacLellan is hoping the loss of the registered nursing assistants program is just for one year. "It's an extremely good program," he said.

While the consortium has already seen a loss of $40,000 in their program budget, MacLellan is busy working on other dollars. "I'm hoping to get other money. But, it's too early to say," he added.

Mainly cloudy

We'll have to wait until Friday for sunny skies, reports the Edmonton weather office.

Tuesday will be partly cloudy with a high of 22 C and a low of 9 C.

Wednesday and Thursday will both be mainly cloudy with a 40 per cent chance of showers. Highs will be around 22 C, with the temperature dropping to 9 C.

Friday's forecast is for mostly sunny weather with a 30 per cent chance of scattered showers. A high of 22 C and a low of 11 C are expected.

The road between Lodgepole and the Brazeau Dam will be paved...if there's money in the budget.

County of Parkland Councillor Henry Rondeau says the road was scheduled to be paved this year, however, it now depends on the budget.

The road between Cynthia and the Petro Canada turnoff has been upgraded. However, the work has been limited to the six-mile stretch for this year.

Work started last week on the landscaping around the new Catholic Church.

The Drayton Valley Landfill Authority wouldn't allow a load of toxic waste to be dumped here last week.

Town manager Manny Deol says the Done truck, sent here from Edson, was told they couldn't dump at the Drayton Valley landfill, on orders from Alberta Environment.

Town council had an informal lunch date with Sturdi Wood boss Al Owen last Thursday. No details of their discussions were given to the paper.

A bylaw to close 34th Ave. was passed in town council last Thursday. Originally, council had looked at extending 34th Ave. past the new strand board plant to tie in with 50th St.

How do you figure this one out?

A truck parked in town recently selling fresh Okanagan fruit, had Saskatchewan plates.

Two people were injured when a motor vehicle lost control and rolled at Seba Beach late Sunday morning.

Evansburg RCMP report that the vehicle, driven by Dean Gamble of Edmonton, rolled into a ditch when it lost control on Highway 31.

There were six occupants in the vehicle, two of whom suffered unreported injuries, said Cpl. Jim Yasinaki.

The accident is still under investigation.

After three decades, yard being dismantled

By Steve Fletcher
Salvage man Bob McGregor is hauling out nearly 38 years of work in anticipation of an Oct. 1 shut-down.

Drayton Valley's only salvage yard is being dismantled to make way for new lot owners. McGregor says he sold out because it was the right thing to do.

"Well I should, I'm 70 years old...you've gotta quit sometime," he said.

So far, 25 truck-loads of scrap — mainly steel and iron — have been shipped to Edmonton, but McGregor knows he still has a long way to go.

"We haven't made much of a dent yet. Though it is getting thinned out. Even the buildings have to come down."

He has also taken at least seven or eight loads of scrap to his acreage out of town. In addition, his house's backyard is full of engines that require some salvaging before they are crushed.

After three decades of scrap collecting things can really pile up.

The salvage business can be almost recession-proof. McGregor remembers very few quiet times but a lot of busy ones.

"We've salvaged everything from sewing machines, to old cars, old tractors," noted the World War II

"Our busiest time, I guess, was when the Brazeau Dam was being built and we loaded over 100 tons of scrap iron and took to Entwistle (for shipment to an Edmonton steel mill).

After seeing action overseas with the 1st Canadian Division, McGregor worked on building the air port at Cold Lake.

He came to Drayton Valley in January 1955. McGregor recalls that his salvaging career began.

innocently enough, with his wife's gallstone operation in Edmonton.

"When I went to see her, I went down to the dump and I found a mud pump. When I took another load of mud pump, from then on I've kept salvaging."

A cursory tour of McGregor's two-acre scrap yard reveals its long history.

Protruding from layers of iron and steel scrap, like shrines to a bygone era, are the more interesting collectables: old Studebakers, hauling trucks, incinerators, and thrashers that were discarded long ago.

McGregor says it all must go.

Most of the scrap will find a new home at salvage yards in Edmonton. McGregor's wife is busy trucking the goods to the city — something she's been doing since the 1950s.

"Over the years, she has put about 100,000 miles on (the) truck," said McGregor.

Chamber of commerce

To conduct door-to-door survey

The Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce retail study will start Aug. 1.

Robert Wolff, who graduated from Frank Mad dock high school in '86 has been hired to oversee the project. Two other students will also be hired to do the actual door-to-door survey.

The survey will involve calling on 1000 households and 250 small business. Ten per cent of the households will be outside of town limits.

Wolff says it will take people about 15 minutes to fill out the survey. It can either be done when the staff member is in attendance, or left, and picked up 24 hours later.

The intent of the survey is to find out where people spend their money and why.

Wolff expects to have the project finished by the middle of August. After that he will present a final report to the chamber and plans include printing up 1000 copies.

The former FMHS grad and current University of Alberta student, is presently working on upgrading the chamber's Outlook '87 booklet.

McGee named new rec board chairman

Town councillor Tom McGee has been named chairman of the Drayton Valley recreation board.

In addition, Christine Cripps and Jim Anderson have been appointed to the board by council at last week's meeting.

Current community members at large sitting on the board include Jack Hutchinson, the former board chairman who was replaced by McGee under guidelines set out in the new recreation bylaw. Vivian Bredin and Dick Mortenson.

The appointments filled vacancies caused by the recent resignations of Simon Kelly and Les Bannerman, whose terms expire Dec. 31, 1988.

Prior to voting on the applicants, councillors wrangled over town policy concerning board appointments.

Mayor Bob Mayhew said it was his understanding revisions in policy made it mandatory that all applicants be interviewed by council before any decision.

Councillor Howard Olsen thought new rules required the filling out of questionnaires by all board hopefuls.

Council agreed to vote on the applicants after concerns were raised about the board's present effectiveness.

Any postponement of the appointments would continue to render the rec board incapable of functioning, said McGee. The board has been unable to obtain a quorum since the resignations.

Town manager Manny Deol said the appointments policy has not yet been completely revised but would be ready in time for the next council meeting (Aug. 8).

Only one community member at large attended the July 9 recreation board meeting, making it impossible to conduct any official business. Two councillors, the recreation director and a recording secretary were also in attendance.

Williams charged, RCMP investigate

Dorothy Williams, 20, of Buck Lake, has been charged with second degree murder following the death of another Buck Lake resident.

Breton RCMP are continuing to investigate the death of Donald Gregory Mackinaw, 23, who died suddenly at his residence on the evening of July 14, an RCMP spokesman said.

Williams appeared in Wetaskiwin Provincial Court last Friday.

An autopsy was performed on Mackinaw last week.

New municipality

Get facts out in the open...

Residents of Alder Flats, Breton and Lindale are concerned about their education systems.

People living in ID 14 are worried their taxes will increase.

At the root of these concerns is the formation of a new municipal district.

It's not a new problem; it's been bantered about for years — but heated up in the past two years.

A decision on the actual boundaries the new MD will take is the reason for the prolonged delay. Although, we hear that it's bogged down in the education minister's office because some people want an education study before the provincial government makes any sort of announcement.

What's discouraging about all this, besides the continuous delays by government, is all the back room talk that's been going on. When an issue as important as this, affects the lives of so many people, one would think the politicians would want to get things out into the open.

The Yes Group, Western Ratepayers, a Drayton Valley-based group who have been pushing for the formation of a new MD... have been silent far too long.

When asked not to make the new MD an election issue last year, they backed off. Backing off, especially from making any comment, is something they have made a habit of. Their favorite saying is 'no comment' or 'it's off the record.'

It was the Yes Group that went out and sold memberships and got resounding support from the people. It was the Yes Group who got the people's support in the form of a petition to force a plebscite.

It's about time they started telling those people just what is going on. If pressure needs to be applied, let the people help.

Two weeks ago the Yes Group, some members of town council and the chamber met 'privately' with MLA Shirley Cripps.

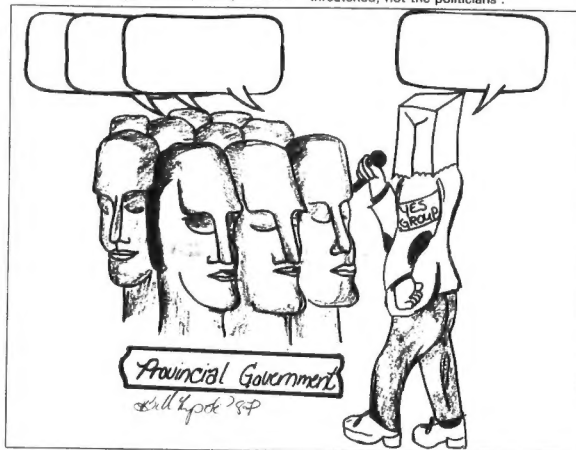

The town has apparently sent a letter to the MLA requesting some action. It was suggested by a town staff member that the newspaper get a copy of that letter so they could get more actively involved, but unfortunately, the letter was not forthcoming.

It was also suggested to get in touch with the Yes Group, that they finally wanted to start talking. But several calls to their chairman drew no response.

Because so many lifestyles may be affected by any decision, it's about time the Yes Group and our MLA started telling the people what is actually happening.

Let's stop these private, behind-closed-door meetings, and get the facts out into the open. It's the people's lives that are being threatened, not the politicians'.

Meeting people enjoyable part of game

This has been one of my most enjoyable summers in many a year.

Credit for that goes to my taking up golf, and all the people I've met on the course.

My 16-year-old son Mickey is my regular golfing partner along with Joe MacLellan when he's not out chasing down bucks to run the programs at the Pembina Education Consortium.

Meeting people has been one of the most enjoyable aspects of my game.

A couple of weeks ago I teamed up with Derek Hruska and Colin Tuckwood at the first tee and recorded my best round...a 45. Prior to that, my best round at Drayton Valley (49) came while playing with Chad Anker and Doug Cabel.

I can honestly tell you, that on both occasions I almost begged off, when I saw these young fellows belt their drive over the trees. But there's something about playing with people who drive, approach and putt better than you.

The staff at all the golf courses have been especially cooperative getting me out when I've been alone. My sincere thanks to Howard, Blair and Greg at the DV course and the crew out at Birchwood Village Greens (Lindale).

Make sure to get out to the Drayton Valley course on Thursday, July 30 for the third annual Bill Flett charity classic.

I attended the Wayne Gretzky classic at the Edmonton Country Club recently and enjoyed renewing my acquaintance with Randy and Mike Moller and talking with Gordie Howe. The Mollers hope to come here for the Bill Flett classic on July 30.

Vacation safety tips

Returning from vacation only to find your home has been burglarized is one quick way of shattering what was until then the perfect holiday. To combat this possibility, the RCMP suggest would-be vacationers safeguard their homes by ensuring they aren't indirectly acting as a green light for potential burglars.

"One of the best plans is to set up a little neighborhood watch. Have the neighbors keep an eye on the house," said Cpl. Tom Turner.

He also recommended the following:

- Make sure all deliveries are discontinued during the vacation (so newspapers or other mail don't pile up on the doorstep).

- Have someone care for your lawn while you're away.

- Leave a key with a friend and have them check in side the house every second day or so.

- A further, inexpensive precaution is to purchase an electronic timer that will have the house lights go on and off at regular intervals.

- Don't mention you're away on your answering machine.

- As an extra safeguard, the RCMP offer a "premises check program" through the local detachment.

Turner said all requests made to the program are posted on a board. Police officers on night patrol, if time allows, will then give a physical inspection (checking the windows and doors) of each residence on the list.

The program, established several years ago, is available year-round, Turner added.

Landfill inventory

Alberta Environment has released an inventory of 620 active, closed or abandoned industrial landfill sites in Alberta.

Statistics supplied by Environment show three active and 15 closed sites in the Drayton Valley area.

The active sites are located near Drayton Valley, Brasseau and Buck Lake. There are six closed sites in the Brasseau area followed by Buck Lake with four, three around Lodgepole and one each at Drayton Valley and Alder Flats.

The release of the inventory officially completes phase 1 of the Help End Landfill Pollution, or HELP program. It involved a nine-month survey which compiled information on industrial landfills in Alberta.

Phase 2 — an in-depth assessment of all sites will be next with any preventative action or clean-up to be part of phase 3.

Overdue pledges

The Shangri La Lodge is considering another bowl-ton next year in order to earn the money needed for the seniors' bus.

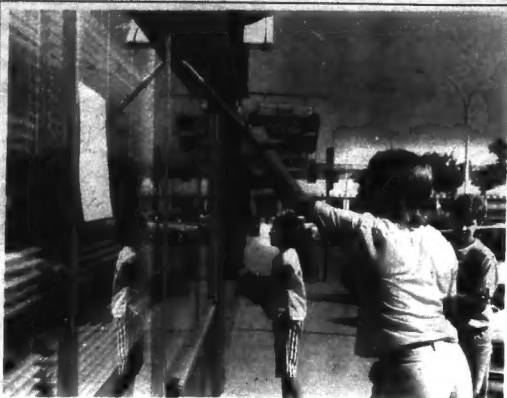

This year's bowl-a-ton was an undeniable success, with pledges exceeding $40,000.

However, including donations from local service clubs, the lodge is still about $20,000 short of its goal, said Gail Biedler, bowl-a-ton coordinator.

She said by locking the present amount in a term deposit, the lodge should be quite able to afford the bus after a second bowl-a-ton in 1988.

Biedler also stressed those with outstanding pledges — there is more than $3,000 still not accounted for — should try and turn them in as soon as possible.

"People can really help us (by turning in pledges), so that we can lock all the money into a term deposit," she said.

A washed-out road caused by last year's July flood.

Water level down in rivers

Last year at this time, the North Saskatchewan and Pembina rivers flooded their banks causing hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage.

Highways were washed out, people lost their homes and the Lindale golf course was under water. This year, the water level in both rivers is down.

However, a spokesman in the River Forecast Centre says it's hard to say if we'll see another flood in '87.

While things aren't as bad as a year ago, the weather is a determining factor.

A spokesman in the River Forecast Centre says it's not as wet as a year ago. Last year, it rained on and off between July 1 and the 16th, which proceeded the flooding. That kept the soil very wet.

A good indication of the water levels can be seen at the Brazeau Dam, where the Elk River, that feeds the dam, is about 30 feet below last year's highest point during the flood, according to a forest service spokesman.

Nuisance property

A property in "unsightly condition" will be cleaned up by town staff, council decided at last week's meeting.

Town staff will clean the lot, located at 5462-55 St., of tall grass and weeds. Cost of the cleanup will be charged against the property and recovered in unpaid taxes.

The bylaw enforcement officer considered the lot to be a nuisance property and sent two double registered letters to the owner, requesting the problem be rectified.

A subsequent inspection by the officer found that the owner, who has apparently moved up north, had failed to cut his lawn.

Company purchases new lots

Gest Construction has purchased eight lots in the Northview subdivision.

Last week town council approved the deal, which will see non-refundable deposits on each lot — all fronting Mackenzie Avenue.

No taxes will be paid until the final transfer of title or until Dec. 15, 1988 — whichever comes first.

Town manager Manny Deol said Gest plans to have the houses constructed by the end of 1988.

The purchase price for each lot has been pegged at $17,500.

Big brothers/sisters

Applications on tap for fall

Applications for Big Brothers/Sisters will be available to those interested in September says group spokesman Toni Kasimir.

Representatives from the organization will be in attendance at the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce Trade Fair Sept. 11-13.

Information and applications will be distributed to prospective big brothers/sisters and little brothers/sisters.

The volunteer group has broken into committees and have delegated operating budgets, said Kasimir.

President of the Big Brothers/Sister group is Marty Prentice, with Sherry Webb acting as secretary and head of the public relations committee.

Rick Watrick is in charge of bylaws and fund-raising, while Martin Coutts heads finance.

Programming committee chairman is Jan Nielson, with Donna Gillespie in charge of recruitment and Toni Kasimir chairing the screening and matching committee.

The group's next meeting will be held July 27 to iron out their bylaws.

Those interested in helping out on a particular committee would be appreciated said Kasimir.

Support from the community has been abundant and is a major reason for the group's progress thus far, she said.

Public assistance

The Town of Drayton Valley is asking for public assistance in revamping their business license.

An ad, which appears elsewhere in this issue, asks some important questions.

The town wants to know if people who operate a business out of their home, should pay more than the other businesses in town. And, should a fee distinction be made between in-town and out-of-town owners?

The matter of an appropriate fee is also asked.

Businessmen and merchants have until July 31 to respond to the town's inquiry. The chamber has also been asked to comment.

DON'T KNOCK

Looking for a new house? Then probably what you desire and the going price for such a dream house are mutually exclusive. There is no perfect house, and very few families can afford everything they want. This means compromise.

You might have to trade off certain desirable features to get a house with other more important ones. For example, you may find yourself giving up a short commuting distance to get a house with more land or vice versa. You could give up a family room, say, for a second bath - then add the family room you really want later on, when you can better afford it.

Make a list of your top priorities, such as location, schools, number of bedrooms. This will do double duty. It will steer you to the house that comes closest to what you want now, and one that will also satisfy your probable future needs.

Cowboy's death

Reporting on tragedy tough, but part of job

By Megan Parker
Reporting on disaster and personal tragedy is somewhat commonplace in the business of news...or so I recall this message coming across in my two years of college training.

The reporter learns to separate him or herself from the event, whatever the event may be, and report the facts as they occur.

And no, I don't believe this means the reporter becomes cold or callous, but learns to do his or her job professionally, doing the best job possible. Emotional involvement must be kept at a low.

Recently this reporter had a hard time swallowing this concept.

The assignment was clear — on Saturday, July 11 I covered the Buck Lake Stampede.

It was the third rodeo assignment of my short reporting career. Although far from being old hat I did feel that returning to work with the results and good photos was within my means.

An unexpected curve was thrown my way during the bull riding.

Following a completed ride Calgary cowboy Grant Myren was trampled by the bull and suffered injuries later resulting in his death.

COMMENT

His ride angled from the chutes to the left where the incident occurred...directly in front of me.

Looking back I remember wanting to throw my camera aside, (how could I be taking pictures of this?) and jump in the arena to help in some way. Jumping back and forth from one thought to the next I continued snapping pictures. Somewhere, among all the mixed-up thoughts and confusion on my part, I did the job I was there to do.

I'm quite sure the incident didn't take more than a few seconds but on the other hand it seemed to last forever — everytime I replay it in my mind my perception of time becomes further confused.

For some time I suppose the memory of what happened will remain with me, frame by frame, just like the photographs.

Four days after the pictures were taken I learned of Grant Myren's death.

The pictures were chosen in the name of good photography...they depicted the possible excitement and danger of rodeo competition. Unfortunately the July 14th paper was already on the newstands before we learned of Myren's death.

Hopefully, this is the last time I will witness such a tragedy in my career, but I will continue to attend, report on, and photograph rodeo as it is assigned...for that is my job — one of which I enjoy.

Buck Lake Stampede

Calgary bull rider dies in hospital

Calgary bull rider Grant Myren died in an Edmonton hospital last Tuesday of injuries sustained at the Buck Lake Stampede.

Myren, 26, suffered severe abdominal and internal injuries when he was trampled by a bull July 11.

The cowboy was rushed by ambulance to hospital in Braton where, following an examination, was transferred to the University Hospital.

Myren suffered severe liver damage and underwent a series of three operations before dying of a second cardiac arrest.

Myren was the eldest of two sons of George Myren, a three-time Canadian champion who rode saddle broncs and bareback horses and wrestled steers in the late 1950 and early 1960s.

A prayer service and funeral were held last Friday.

'Play a Round' with Howard

By Howard Vickers, Pro
Drayton Valley Golf Course
Hole No. 9: 367 yards par 4

The ninth hole is a good long par 4 that demands some length but is wide enough to be forgiving in the accuracy department. Just getting over the creek is the main concern to most but once you're over, it's wide open space.

A drive down the right side avoids having to go over the large trees guarding the left side of the green.

A good approach here should land on the front portion of the green and roll up to the middle, but remember, the wind is usually against you so use lots of club. Remember: when it's breezy, swing easy.

New United uniforms propel team to win

Drayton Valley United stormed back from an early deficit to score three goals in a rain-plagued second half and beat Edison 4-1 on Sunday afternoon.

The win puts Drayton Valley firmly atop the men's soccer standings with a perfect 5-0 record.

Moreover, taking last season into consideration, the local team is enjoying a winning streak of 15 or 16 games.

To win Sunday's game, which took place at West Valley Park, Drayton Valley first had to prevail over an unfortunate mistake occurring in the early minutes of the game.

"We scored on ourselves," said goaltender-captain Simon Kelly. "A cross was coming over and it bounced off (centre back) Chris Brown's chest. I think it was their first rush."

But before the end of the first half, centre forward Chris Kelly capitalised on a penalty shot to tie the game. In the process, Kelly kept his scoring streak alive and helped secure his position as the league's leading finisher with 10 goals.

From then on United dominated the play, with the same-winning goal credited to Guy Taylor after the ball went in off an Edison player.

Mark Buckland scored his sixth of the season to give Drayton Valley a 3-1 lead. His brother Nigel completed the team's three-goal second half outburst.

Despite the wind and the rain, Simon Kelly says the weather wasn't that bothersome to the players.

"The rain made the ball skip a bit, but I wouldn't say it was a factor."

Besides, Drayton Valley had extra incentive to win this game.

"We couldn't lose our first game in our new uniforms," joked Kelly. The team had just imported new (white with red trim) uniforms from Umbro, a noted British manufacturer.

Besides the play of Nigel Buckland, Kelly singled out the play of Ben Poblette and Guy Taylor.

The Edison Shooters, now 2-3 on the season, picked Bob Stripe, a centre forward who was placed between the goalposts for this game.

Edison was not down-cast despite the loss. "They're the closest team we've played," said Shooters spokesman Guy Geroulis.

United's next game is this Sunday in Mayerthorpe.

The leading scorer, Chris Kelly of Drayton Valley (right), attempts to get by an Edison player.

Service organizations

Inter-club a success

The first-ever inter-club golf tournament successfully achieved its objective - to have a good time, says spokesman Don Anderson.

The tourney, held on Saturday, was comprised of five service clubs: The Royal Canadian Legion, the Kinmen, the Lions, the Elks, and the Knights of Columbus.

A total of 108 club members took part in the event.

Anderson said the main goal was to "get everybody out and together."

He added that there were a lot of beginners involved who were given a chance to practice their swing.

Without the accompanying pressure.

A rainstorm didn't dampen the enjoyment.

"They put on their raincoats and kept right on going. Everybody was having a good time."

The tournament is considered the summer equivalent of the long-established inter-club curling event.

"We've had inter-club curling for the last 13 or 14 years, we just decided to try the golf thing," said Anderson.

The tourney was followed by a dinner and dance at the Elks community centre.

This weekend

Diamonds busy

Baseball diamonds at West Valley Park will be extremely busy this weekend.

For the first time ever the Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association will host the Beaver B provincials Friday, Saturday and Sunday on diamond 5.

On Saturday and Sunday, the mosquito A interzones will take place on diamond 4.

The host Brandette Bat Busters will play in the first game at 9 a.m. Friday.

There will be four games both Friday and Saturday at 9 a.m., noon, 3 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Rec director says

User fees next year

User fees are expected to start next year.

Recreation director Paul Nielsen says the board looked at them last week, and there's virtually no changes. Town council still has to give their seal of approval.

But before that happens, the groups affected by the user fees have been sent portions of the new bylaw that affects them.

If the bylaw goes through in its present form, youth would pay $1.75 each per season while adults will

On Sunday, games are set for 9 a.m. and noon and if a playoff is necessary, it will go at 3 p.m.

If one team goes through the beaver playoff undefeated, they will be named provincial champs and no playoff will be needed.

The official opening will take place at noon Saturday on diamond 5.

Also this weekend, the Tigers oldtimers travel to Kindersley for the Western Canada baseball tournament. They have won the event the past two years.

be required to pay $3.50 each per season. If someone plays in two leagues (Example, football and baseball) they would pay twice.

Nielsen says the town expects to recover about $3,500 from diamond user fees and another $1,500 from soccer. However, the money recovered through soccer will not be enough to cover maintenance costs.

It will be up to the leagues, not the town, to administer the fee.

Boxing

Derrick club finds home

It appears the Derrick Boxing Club has found a home for the 1987-88 season.

Recreation director Paul Nielsen says he met with Lawrence Dupperon and the boxers have been assigned space in the Evergreen school.

Last year the boxers found themselves on the outside looking in, when they got bumped due to a shortage of gym space created when the Evergreen school was partially closed for renovations. They had to find space in a local facility, which has since been filled by a new business.

*****

Meanwhile, Nielsen is still looking into the problem of water on the Rotary Park tennis courts.

The courts were resurfaced last year and when the water puddles were seen, the contractor was scheduled to return in April and fix the problem. That didn't happen.

Nielsen says a major overhaul to the courts would cost $10,000.

*****

The arena is getting a bit of a facelift before the winter sports begin in mid September. Town crews have been busy painting.

Timber

Eleven poplar trees on 50th Ave. were cut down recently as their roots were causing problems for the sewer system and the new sidewalks. Six of the trees were cut down in front of the Leisure Lea apartments. Top left photo, shows one of the trees being cut, with the photo, top right, showing the tree on the ground. Then the crew went to work cutting it up into fire wood for Lions Park. The limbs and leaves were fed into the mulching machine, bottom left photo.

Over new curling rink

Meetings continuing

Meetings continued last week on a new curling rink/community centre.

Representatives of the Drayton Valley Curling Club and the Community Centre Society met privately with town council last Thursday morning.

Curling club president Bruce Clemmer confirmed that a letter had been sent to the town, asking for land in Lions Park for a facility.

Council said several months ago they would make land available to the curlers.

Clemmer says last week's meeting dealt with their plans and talk of some grant money that may be available for the project.

More talks are planned within the next couple of weeks.

The town has shelved their plans for another arena, pending the formation of the new municipal district.

Town has four objectives

Five-year financial plan

The town has introduced its five-year financial plan (1987-92), encompassing four main objectives.

These include determining the operational expenditures and tax revenue requirements for a five-year period; (2) Determine capital project funding requirements, reserve, and unexpended funds projection; (3) Determine the possibilities for debt reduction and payment of other long-term debt and, (4) determine the possibility of reducing property taxes.

Mayor Bob Mayhew used the Sturdy Wood mill as an example of possible debt reduction and payment of long-term debt.

On the subject of reducing property taxes, he said: "They (the taxes) are still significantly higher than other communities. It is the intention of council to try and bring these into line."

Concerned about fees?

Are you concerned about the possibility of paying user fees for ball and soccer fields next year?

What about the delay in announcing boundaries for the proposed municipal district, smoke, dust and noise originating from the strand board mill or shopping in Drayton Valley as outlined in a recent editorial?

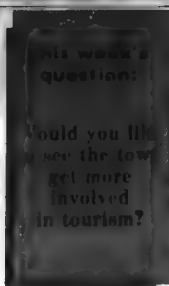

If any of these issues or any issue in the community concern you, write a letter to The Editor, P.O. Box 120, Drayton Valley, AB, T0E 0M0.

All letters must be signed. Please include your phone number.

"Yes, I think so. I think it will definitely help business in town. It will bring in more people and they will spend more money."

John Lui
Drayton Valley

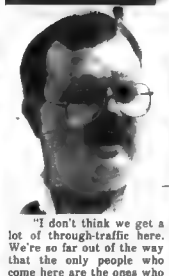

"Yes. If it creates some employment and gets a lot more people to come to the area."

Miriam Roberts
Drayton Valley

"Sure. It's something the town needs."

Dean Meraw
Drayton Valley

"I don't think we get a lot of through-traffic here. We're so far out of the way that the only people who come here are the ones who have to."

Gerrit Dekker
Drayton Valley

"Yes. It will build up the town and help the economy."

Barb Krachmer

Recent show

Goat champ

John and Joanne Benger of Moon Lake cleaned up at a recent goat show in Lloydminster.

The Bengers, who took 17 of their Nubian goats to Lloydminster won one grand champion, three reserve, prize money totalling $500, a plaque, five firsts, five seconds, one third, four fourths and a fifth.

Calgary Olympics

Tickets still available

Yes, Virginia, there really are Olympic tickets left - about 600,000 of them in fact, for about 70 scheduled Olympic competitions.

There are enough good seats still available to keep the most avid spectator busy from morning to night throughout the XV Olympic Winter Games in Calgary.

Take the first week of the Games. On Feb. 15, for example, a dedicated sports fan could start at 8:30 a.m. with curling; move on to men's luge or men's 30-km cross-country skiing at 10 a.m.; men's combined downhill alpine skiing at 11:30 a.m.; then take in ice hockey games in both the afternoon, at 2 p.m. and in the evening, at 6:15 p.m.

And the pace doesn't slacken in the second week. Feb. 21 is a typical day. It starts at 10 a.m. with competitions in both two-man bobsleigh and ladies 4x5-km cross-country skiing; at 12:30 p.m. there's a choice of disabled skiers' giant slalom or men's alpine super giant slalom; at 1:30 p.m. freestyle aerials; and at 5 p.m. there is a hockey game.

For most events, ticket prices range from $15 to $30, but admission to the disabled skiing competition is free. (You still have to order the tickets, but they won't cost you anything.)

The easiest way to order

tickets is to pick up an Olympic Ticket Update at any Royal Bank. It not only has a complete schedule of Olympic competitions, it includes a clip-out Olympic ticket order form. You can also use the ticket order form to request information on accommodation during the Games and to order an official souvenir program. (The programs will be mailed out in December and cost $9.95 plus $2.05 for postage and handling.)

Orders are limited to 12 tickets per customer and payment can be made by Visa, certified cheque or money order.

As of July 1, the only sold-out events were the opening and closing ceremonies, figure skating, speed skating and short-track speed skating, but to make sure the tickets you want are still available, before you order call the ticket hotline at 270-6088.

Starting Sept. 7, order forms for the Olympic Arts Festival will also become available. For five weeks - from Jan. 23 to Feb. 28 - Calgary is going to play host to a dazzling array of Canadian and international talent.

With more than 2000 artists featured in more than 600 performances and exhibitions, there'll be something for every taste - concerts, comedy, theatre, dance, as well as world class examples of the visual and literary arts.

Sandscapes at farmer's market

New picture created every time tipped or turned over

The saying "a picture is worth a thousand words" may be true in the case of L.E.S. Ventures sandscapes.

Available at the Drayton Valley farmer's market, these unique sandscape pictures create a different scenery everytime they're tipped or turned over, says manufacturer Eli Yarmey.

"There'll never be two the same," he said.

The sandscape pictures are a combination of special sand, water and additives lending color to the water, encased in glass and a wooden frame.

Yarmey says many of the ingredients are imported, therefore justifying the cost of the sandscapes.

Cost ranges from $25 to $40 depending on the size of the picture. Sizes range from 6x8 to 7x20 inches.

Special orders may also be placed he said, explaining that making one picture is a four-day process.

The origin of the sandscape is European, but more recently could be found in California. Intrigued after seeing a version in the States he approached the manufacturer and brought plans for the design of the art work home with him to Stony Plain.

Yarmey and his wife Lois have manufactured the sandscapes since the end of May and have been selling at the farmer's markets for just two weeks.

The sandscapes will be at the local farmer's market Aug. 12 and the first Wednesday of every month following that.

Drayton Valley library

Free summer reading available for kids

The Drayton Valley Municipal Library is hosting a free summer reading program for kids and their families.

The program, dubbed "I Spy" runs through to Aug. 28 and is designed to promote participation and learning through reading materials, encourage learning about the library and provides kids with activities to take home.

I Spy kits containing a code and message book, an official lapel pin for winning mystery prizes, and I Spy puzzle poster, bookmark, reading certificate and drawing book will be given to the first 250 kids to register.

A series of events are planned for children of all ages and their parents along the I Spy theme.

Solving mysteries, codes and secret information could lead to winning prizes.

Story time for three to six-year-olds will be held each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 3 to 3:15 p.m.

An exhibit entitled Young at Art will be held on 111 July 22 featuring a collection of paintings, sketches and photography by Canadian artists.

dian artists.

Artists will present art done while in their teens and works done recently and the children will then be asked to detect which belongs to which artist.

Librarian Lois Peterson invites everyone to the library saying, "It's an opportunity for all people in the community to view Canadian artists - some of which are internationally known".

Could start this week

Flying school on target for area

By Megan Parker

A flying school for would-be pilots should be operating in town as early as this week, says Joe Amelia of Edmonton-based Centennial Flight Centre.

"We're starting lessons with around five people," he said, adding "one female signed up and four males".

Amelia says he expects further registration once the school is running.

The Centennial Flight

Centre is offering a private pilot, commercial pilot and night rating course out of the Drayton Valley Municipal Airport.

"A person in Drayton Valley can start right from scratch and end up with a commercial pilot's licence," he explained.

Centennial Flight Centre is an approved trade school, and with the career oriented commercial pilots course financing is available through the Student Finance Board. The private pilot course is a prerequisite to the commercial program said Amelia.

Depending on the individual, course length ranges from three weeks to three months he said.

The school originally planned to open in June, but was tied up "dealing with the bureaucracy" in applying for a licence to operate, through Transport Canada.

Brooks hosting 1989 Games

The 1989 Alberta Summer Games will be hosted by Brooks.

This announcement was made by Vic Juba, chairman of the Alberta Sport Council's Games and Competitions Committee.

Brooks was selected over five other communities - Innisfail, Wetaskiwin, Lloydminster, Medicine Hat and St. Albert - for five reasons: excellent sport facilities; tremendous commitment from the mayor and town council; superior community spirit; an historical involvement in these kinds of Games, as it hosted the Southern Alberta Games; and a very well organized bid committee.

As host community, Brooks will be the site for 3,000 athletes who will participate in 26 sports. In addition, Brooks will provide between 2,000 and 3,000 volunteers to accommodate and feed the athletes, as well as organize sport facilities and competitions. A comprehensive cultural festival will also be organized to enhance the spirit of the Games.

Alberta Summer Games occur every other year in the odd numbered year and have been in existence since 1974.

DRLs popular

Use your headlights

The use of daytime running lights (DRLs) on road vehicles to help cut down on daytime accidents is an idea that is growing in popularity.

Studies conducted in Canada, the United States, Sweden and Finland consistently show the use of daytime running light systems reduce multiple vehicle crashes and accidents involving pedestrians and cyclists during daylight hours.

Transport Canada has stated that for Canadians, use of DRLs would save 120 lives, prevent 38,000 accidents, eliminate 11,000 injuries and save $800 million in related medical costs annually.

In short, use of DRLs would make roads safer for all Canadians because they make vehicles more visible when viewed from the front at times other than when headlights are required.

In light of the support for DRL use, Canadian federal and provincial governments recently asked CSA to begin work on a standard for DRL retrofit kits.

The CSA standard when published will serve as a guideline to manufacturers of DRL kits intended for installation in vehicles which have not been factory equipped with such a system, says Grant Davidson, chairman of the committee working on the draft standard.

The CSA standard will include requirements to ensure that retrofit systems will operate automatically when the car is started and that they shut off when the car is switched off, Davidson says.

Work on the standard is expected to be completed by late 1988.

The 14-member CSA committee began work in early 1987 after Transport Canada announced DRLs would be required on all new vehicles beginning with the 1990 model year, says Jim White, the CSA committee's Transport representative.

Currently many Canadians voluntarily use headlights during the day to improve safety on the road. But there are some drawbacks.

"Experience shows that many Canadians who use headlights during the day forget to turn them off when they park their car. This leads to battery drain and starting problems," says White.

Using headlights originally intended for night time use results in more frequent lamp burnout as well as a slight increase in fuel consumption.

A separate retrofit system is preferable because it would be designed to operate automatically and may also be designed to lower intensity lamps and less wattage.

Many provincial governments, under whose authority legislation affecting existing vehicles lies, now are developing ways to promote the voluntary use of DRLs.

Kelly irked by field's condition

Simon Kelly, president of the Drayton Valley Soccer Society, is upset with the maintenance of the field at West Valley Park.

And he says if the town expects his soccer club to pay user fees, then the field's condition must be improved.

Kelly says the field is in poor condition and that the town should be responsible for its maintenance.

These concerns will be brought up at a meeting on user fees scheduled for tomorrow night (Wednesday), Kelly said.

He said he is most irked by sections of the field that are rough and torn up.

"If they expect us to pay user fees, that's fine. But what I expect in return is a proper job (with the maintenance)."

Lodgepole lookout

Isolated towerman comfortable at top of perch

All France Munnik stands part way up his 100-foot lookout forest lookout tower.

By Steve Fletcher
All France Munnik has accustomed himself well to the six months of isolation he goes through every year.

After all, this is his 18th year of climbing up and down the 100-foot perch that is the Brazeau district lookout tower.

Munnik, known as France to his friends, exemplifies the qualities needed to prevail over the long months of solitude: a strong sense of humor and a lot of experience dealing with the problem.

Ironically, Munnik first got his job as a Rocky Mountain-Clearwater towerman when "somebody was cracking up — not here but somewhere else — because of the isolation."

He says most towermen go through stages, eventually acclimatizing themselves to the remoteness.

"After 12 years, it's just normal. But the first three or four years are really noticeable...after that, the years really slip by, you're pretty well over the barrier."

Is it almost like being a lighthouse keeper overlooking an island sea?

"Not exactly. They usually have two people at a lighthouse," said Munnik, who spent part of 1978 sequestered at a lighthouse near Nanaimo, B.C.

The posting was on Trial Island, at a place called Gallows Point. "It's where they hung the first guy in Western Canada. The tree's still standing," recalls Munnik.

For now, the form — high school teacher feels comfortably ensconced at the lodgepole tower.

"I'll probably remain here until I reach retirement age, or somebody makes me an offer I can't refuse."

"It's like living two lives — six months here and six months as a responsible citizen," he joked.

Munnik's term of responsible citizenship takes place in Lamsa, Kenya, where his family lives.

His move to Africa was motivated by a desire to rid himself of Canadian winters. "I don't like the cold weather," he reasoned.

Currently, the towerman is learning to live with the rash of horses that are predominant in July. Mosquitoes are next. Occasionally, a stray moose or black bear will forage through his small vegetable garden in front of his cabin.

About once a month, somebody from the forest service arrives with food and other provisions.

Although days go by when he has a lot of time on his hands, things have been exceptionally busy so far this fire season.

Roughly 25 fires have occurred in the district to date, many caused by lightning strikes or downed power lines. When the hazard is high, Munnik can spend 12 hours up in the cramped quarters of the tower.

The trend late, has been to close down lookout towers, but Munnik believes the lodgepole fixture will continue into the foreseeable future.

Most forest fires in the area are industrial in nature, and are not caused by lightning strikes (lightning can now be spotted by aircraft or computer).

Despite the reclusive nature of his work, Munnik said it's the best job he's ever had.

"Yeah, I like going back (to Africa), but I like returning too."

Atop the perch, Munnik gets a bird's eye view.

Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron; Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth ... — The Word of God (1 Timothy 4:1-3)

Does your church command callbaby for any man? or does it teach you to abstain from meats on certain days or times of the year (ie. Good Friday, Lent, etc.)? Then know assuredly that the WORD OF GOD calls your church an APOSTATE RELIGION which has left the true doctrine of the Word of God in order to follow the DOCTRINES OF DEVILS!

If you are honest in your heart and seriously desire to know the TRUTH and follow God, then listen and obey the WORD OF GOD! God tells you to not be ... "unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? and what concord hath Christ with Belial (the devil)? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore COME OUT FROM AMONG THEM, AND BE YE SEPARATE, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing: and I will receive you, And I will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

"THE WORD OF GOD (2. Corinthians 6:14-18)

If you belong to the Roman Catholic Church or any other church that teaches any of these abominable doctrines of devils, we ask you to consider God's WORD, and COME OUT OF HER, and be separate; for they do not lead you in the way of God, but into the error of Cain, who killed his brother, because his brothers works were good and his deeds were evil. The Roman Catholic Church follows in a way of self-invented and vain traditions (which will save no man), and not in the way of truth which alone leads to salvation.

You desperately need to know the TRUTH and be born again of water, Spirit and truth. THE WORD OF GOD IS TRUTH (in the English-Speaking world the King James Version of the Bible).

Concerns voiced

Officials of the Buck Lake Stampede Association have voiced their concern over an article which appeared in The Western Review last week.

The article, which told of the tragic events during their annual stampede, stated no ambulance or attendants were available to assist Sundre cowboy Jim Scott.

Earlier in the stampede, an ambulance and two attendants had taken an injured bull rider to hospital in Breton and later into Edmonton. The Scott incident happened later in the day.

However Louie Bannack, stampede secretary, says there were lots of qualified people on hand to assist Scott.

Hilda Bannack, who works at the Breton hospital, was in attendance and in fact, did assist Scott. Six of the stampede directors have St. John Ambulance first aid training and rodeo officials had direct contact with a back-up ambulance at a gas plant three miles away.

Bannack said it was pre-arranged to have his wife handy just in case such an emergency should arise.

ERCB

Upswing in oil patch

Activity has picked up in the area oil patch.

But Jim Reid, area supervisor with the Energy Resources Conservation Board (ERCB) says it's not dramatic. Just steady.

Since March the number of wells drilling in the area has jumped from five to 35. At this time last year, 50 rigs were working in the Drayton Valley area.

Reid says activity normally levels off at this time in the summer and picks up in the fall.

Commenting about the amount of truck traffic in the area of late, Reid says he's seen it much busier. He added that a lot of trucks seen on area highways are coming in to do normal routine service work.

Little snowfall causes financial plight

Parkland county won't be lightening the $46,816 tax load of Lake Eden Summer and Winter Resort.

A recent request by owner Willi Zeiter for cancellation of about $4,000 in tax penalties and 25 per cent of taxes owing was scratched unanimously after councillors heard Zeiter detail the unpredictability of the ski hill income.

Lake Eden Summer and Winter Resort's annual tax bill is around $30,000.

Zeiter said two bad winters in which there was little snowfall have put the resort in a financial plight. A dry winter, either cold or warm, means snow has to be hauled from the lake at the cost of about $20,000 a year, or it has to be made from snow making machines at the cost of $5,000 to $6,000 monthly. He noted the resort has only a few months of the year to make its money.

Zeiter's lawyer Robert Gillespie told councillors he wasn't quarrelling with the land assessment, but stated that the resort was seeking refinancing and that lenders were concerned about the amount of unpaid taxes.

"The problem with Lake Eden is that it's been a difficult business. Taxes are one of their problems. Quite frankly, as a commercial endeavor, the resort has not been doing well."

The lawyer recognised the deadline for challenging the assessment in the court of revision had passed, but he said the Municipal Taxation Act allows the county to cancel taxes.

"Although business problems aren't your problems," he said, the continued operation of the resort was in the community's interest. He noted during the winter, Lake Eden employs about 100 people.

Zeiter said he'd been operating the resort for 18 years. "I've been paying quite a bit of taxes before that."

Deliberating on the request, Coun. Ken Fair said the company should have appealed through the court of revision while Coun. Peter Bakker asked if there were any similar precedents.

The county previously cancelled $6,361 in penalties in 1984, municipal secretary Delmar Kulak said.

Necessary interview skills to land a job

By Tracey Vattier, manager

Hire A Student

From the places Maverick applied to, he received a call for an interview.

This will be Maverick's first interview and he is very nervous, but he decides to calm himself and prepare for the interview.

Maverick knows the interview is the single most important step in landing a job; what Maverick doesn't know is that it's also the point at which many jobs are lost. It involves two-way communication that allows employers to decide whether or not applicants are right for the job.

Bear in mind it is your qualifications and suitability to the job that are being evaluated in an interview, not just you personally. Although each interview is different, there are three basic steps you should follow:

Preparation: familiarize yourself with the company and the job. Review your personal inventory, personal fact sheet and/or resume to refresh your memory. Anticipate questions so you can formulate pertinent answers.

Hire A Student

Wear clean, neat and appropriate clothes. Go to the interview alone and arrive a few minutes early so you have a chance to compose yourself.

Interaction: remember that you want to make a good impression on all the people at the business, including the secretaries or other employees you meet in the waiting area prior to and after an interview.

Upon meeting the employer, shake his/her hand. Follow the employer's lead; do not interview the interviewer. Also be prepared for more than one interviewer or someone to be involved that you did not expect.

Maintain eye contact and good posture because it says a lot about your attitude. Always respond in a positive manner, especially when it comes to past jobs or employers.

Avoid distracting mannerisms, chewing gum or smoking. Express yourself clearly without rambling or using yes/no answers.

Assessment: immediately after the interview, think about how you performed and where improvements could be made. Follow up the interview in the manner indicated by the employer (i.e. phone back or wait for the employer to contact you).

Note: you as students can gain confidence and learn how to clearly describe your experiences and qualifications by doing mock interviews. These can be done with you, a parent or friend. Another reminder is that not all interviews are the same, you must practice adapting your answers to a variety of situations.

I would also like to encourage students 18 years and older to sign up with Hire A Student, because there are jobs available for you. I am located in the old police station, which is now the chamber of commerce office. The telephone number is 542-2933.

Take a hike — for farm safety reasons

We all know how potentially hazardous a farm can be.

It's a big job to ensure everyone who lives, works and plays on your farm is safe.

With this in mind, Alberta farm families are being urged to take a "safety hike" around the farm on Sunday, July 26 to kick-off Farm Safety Week in Alberta. This is a project of the Women of Uniform and Alberta Agriculture farm safety program and is intended to make the entire farm family aware of safety problems and procedures.

A hiking guide has been designed to help you do a physical inspection of the key safety areas around your farm. Questions are also provided to help you and your family identify and discuss the important safety aspects of the 12 designated areas on the farm. The 12 areas include the house, barn, fuel storage area, shop, farm yard, grain storage facilities, wells and dugouts, chemical storage area, machinery, livestock, the garden and even the family members.

The hike begins with the people aspects of safety which checks to see if anyone wears jewelry such as rings, watches and chains while working around moving machinery, determines if anyone has a fear or phobia about certain situations, and assesses liabilities such as who can apply first aid, swim, operate a tractor, phone for emergency help and switch off power sources.

From there the hike tours the key areas looking for safety features such as working fire extinguishers and smoke detectors, as well as for hazards such as worn equipment parts that could be a problem. As familiar as farm families usually are with their own livestock, machinery and buildings, it is felt that taking a specific hike to look at these safety points will be beneficial to all family members.

As the different checkpoints are completed on the hike, one of the children can be in the chart from the hiking guide showing the progress of the hike. When the 12 surveys on the chart are colored in you are asked to submit the completed picture, along with your name and address to a Women of Uniform representative or to Alberta

Agriculture. You will then be presented with a "Safety Shines on Our Farm" magnetic plaque.

To pick up or reserve your copy of the hiking guide contact my office, Alberta Agriculture, Provincial Building, Drayton Valley, 545-5365.

Then put on your boots and make tracks during Farm Safety Week. Get the whole family out and take a safety hike around your farm. Only you can make "safety shine on your farm."

The next Funnell Society meeting will be held the second Monday in September. The club has finished remodelling their hall. It has a new stucco look. The club served lunch the first day of Lumberjack Days in Breton.

Gordon and Wilma Colby of Edmonton attended the Breton sports day July 1 and spent the weekend visiting relatives in the area.

Another successful Lumberjack Days celebration was held in Breton June 29, 30 and July 1. Events included races, contests and ethnic entertainment.

The ethnic evening held June 30 at the elementary school was well attended. The evening included tours of tables with displays of items and food from several countries. Some of the table hosts wore costumes of the country they represented. In addition, all of the Lumber Jack contestants wore costumes from one of the countries.

Entertainment included the Lumberjacks, a French Canadian musical duo, and a group of students from a Portuguese school in Edmonton, who did some folk dancing. Local entertainment was provided by Pastor Dan Stroman, who played the violin and Joanne Nelson, who did a modern dance number.

Giroux family clean up at goat show

By Joyce Schadeck
Tomahawk was the site of a very successful goat show on Canada Day.

The Capra Valley chapter of the AGBA hosted this show under the sponsorship of the Tomahawk Sports-Agria Association.

Forty-seven guests were shown, with entries from as far away as St. Paul. Along with the many ribbons won by all, five trophies went home to St. Paul with the Giroux family.

Local club member Joan Ulderink, acquired four trophies along with 'best doe in the show.' Edna Hockley and Joyce Schadeck's goats each took two trophies.

The club's entry in the parade took first prize in their section.

The club wishes to thank the businesses for supporting the show by way of donated trophies.

Results of the raffle saw Joyce Goerze take the first prize of a crocheted bed cover and matching pillows. Cal Usher of Redwater won the second prize painting and Emily Letwinick of Drayton Valley won the ceramic set.

Special thanks to the Tomahawk and District Sports-Agria Association for providing us with the opportunity to hold our goat show in conjunction with their Canada Day celebrations.

There will be a goat show in Drayton Valley August 22.

A special salute to Ceassars Inn for acknowledge-ing Dairy Goat Awareness Week by altering the names of some of their beverages and to anyone else who may have done the same but escaped our attention. It helps to know our promotion is reaching someone.

Bridge construction for Lodgepole area

Alberta Transportation and Utilities will call for tenders for the construction of a new bridge in the Lodgepole area.

The new bridge will be constructed across the Brazeau Dam Power Canal, about 27 km southwest of Lodgepole on the Sunchild Road. Work is scheduled to begin this summer.

"The Sunchild Road is an important route for heavy, industrial traffic," said Drayton Valley MLA Shirley Grippa. "Having a new bridge with an increased width and load limit will make the route safer and more valuable and fit in with the scheduled upgrading of the Sunchild Road itself."

"In addition to the industrial traffic in the area," said Transportation Minister Al Adair, "there are plenty of recreational travellers who will benefit from the new bridge. The work should be completed by the fall of 1988."

"The store with all the bargains in town"

DERRICK MALL 542-5625 DRAYTON VALLEY 542-2919

The Western Review, Drayton Valley, Alta., Tuesday, July 21, 1987

More than 20 in town

Something for everyone: burgers to gourmet

By Steve Fletcher

Despite its small population, Drayton Valley is no slouch when it comes to feeding its customers.

As the following survey illustrates, the town's vibrant restaurant industry is varied enough to satisfy even the most finicky of diets. From the gourmet meal to the quick burger, the 20 or so local eateries are equipped to nourish hunger pangs of every size or description.

Last week, each restaurant in town was asked to describe a meal or service which separates itself from the crowd. Below, in alphabetical order, are the results.

A&W — Traditional fast food. Still popular are the Teen Burger or Mozza Burger "with the old-style creamy root beer."

Ben DeJongh Meat and Delicatessen — Homemade stew, chili, soup, and a special-of-the-day. Also has freshly-made sandwiches and desserts. Check out their homemade muffins.

B&W Burger King — Specialize in the gourmet or "heavy duty" burger (onions, sauces, pickles, ham, cheese, bacon, lettuce, tomatoes), and fried chicken.

Black Gold Inn — Nightly smorgasbord and offers specials that cater to different occasions (i.e., Mother's Day, Thanksgiving).

Burger Baron — Texas fried chicken popular, but provides many different types of fast food ("you name it, we've got it").

Caesar's Inn — Comfort of a large dining room. Main specialty is the variety of steaks available (nine types in all).

Drayton Bakery — Baked goods aside, it also serves customers with homemade pastries and sandwiches.

Drayton's Restaurant — Promotes a relaxed atmosphere and offers a variety of menu, including seafood.

Drayton Valley Golf Course — Lunch-time smorgasbord with an assortment of dishes.

Gloria — Offers gourmet dishes but concentrates on Greek and European-styled food.

Goldie's Chicken 'Plus' — (formerly Maggie's Fried Chicken) is catering to a more "discriminating fast food market" with its fried chicken and other, more rarer types of fare (such as its Beef-wich — roast beef on a bun with special seasonings).

Mikey's — (formerly Jenny's Family Dining) The Westwind Motor Inn restaurant will be offering regular specials and a Sunday buffet.

Oilers — A varied menu with both Greek and Canadian cuisine, with pizzas a full-inch bigger than anywhere else.

Par T Golf — Basically

hot snacks, including dried ribs, chicken fingers, cheese nachos, hot dogs, hamburgers, and sandwiches.

PK — Located in the Drayton Valley Hotel, a main attraction of the restaurant is its pepper steak and Greek salad.

Poplar Ridge Store — Specializing in homemade take-out fast food, such as fresh sandwiches, salads and more exotic delicacies (including pyrogies, cabbage rolls, sweet & sour meatball, dried garlic ribs. All buns are homemade).

Skyros — Homemade pizza is its specialty. Most popular is the Chef's Mistake (packed with the works).

Slices — Sandwiches and creativity are the norm at this restaurant. Customers can design their own sandwiches, and then watch as the staff makes them. Soups and salads are also available.

Sweet and Sour House — Chinese and Canadian food with regular specials, and special prices, to suit different occasions.

Syros — Gourmet food, with an accent on seafood. Caters to customers wishing "a unique dining experience."

Three Knights — The oldest steakhouse in Drayton Valley. Relieves the quality of service is the most important thing.

Twin Dragon — Specializes in Chinese food, including takeout.

Enjoy farm fresh produce — visit local market gardens

With many Alberta fresh fruits and vegetables now available from market gardens across the province, the Alberta Market Gardeners Association wants to make sure the public knows where to find it.

The association is again providing public information service to help consumers learn what produce is available and where it is sold.

There are more than 300 market gardeners in Alberta working about 2000 acres of fruit and vegetables, and marketing their crops direct to consumer.

"The market gardeners who range from Fort McMurray to Milk River, grow a wide variety of vegetables, many of which are ready to be harvested," says Lloyd Hausher, a spokesman for the organization. "Market gardeners sell at farmers' markets and at the farm gate, either pre-picked, or pick-your-own."

The market gardeners association has just released a buyer's guide listing members, locations, directions to their farm and produce available. A map outlining locations as well as information of availability seasons is included.

Copies of this brochure are available from the association by writing AMGA, Mail Bag 200, Brooks, AB T0J 0J0, or phoning Lisa at 862-3391.

The association will also again be operating a toll-free produce information line this year, allowing consumers anywhere in Alberta to obtain up-to-date information on produce availability and directions to the nearest produce.

Consumers can call 1-800-352-1302, Thursday to Saturday, from now until Sept. 15.

Hausher encourages consumers to enjoy the farm-fresh country experience of visiting a local market gardener's.

'Sense of humor God-given, nothing to carry around'

By Donna Hasko
Hold onto your hats, liberated ladies, this lady once worked in a coal mine!

Mandy Jones was born on a farm 10 miles east of Staveland, Alberta in 1907. Her mother had arranged for a woman to stay with her until the baby was born, but Mandy didn't cooperate. Mrs. Jones had to let the lady go home.

On Jan. 29 the unusually mild weather turned into a blizzard, noted to be one of the worst of the century. That's when Mandy made her entrance — with her father as midwife.

Mandy attended a country school where only one other girl had an English-speaking background. The others all spoke Swede. "We thought we were pretty smart, but it was only about a year until they caught up with us, then we weren't nearly so smart," she laughed.

"I can remember Haley's Comet," says Mandy. "We were going across the prairie with a team and wagon and they woke me up to see it. I couldn't see the sense of them waking me up to see that star just because it had a tail on it." Mandy was two years old at the time.

Two sisters had left home so Mandy, her brother and youngest sister helped on the farm, milking 28 cows. "My largest sitting was when my dad and brother were away. Mother and my sister each milked one cow. I milked 23. That's enough to disfigure an anatomy." They shipped about 20 gallons of cream a week for about $1 a gallon.

Father gave Mandy and her brother five acres of land on which they grew potatoes. They sold to the Crossfield Hotel and the Co-Op store, two bags a week for $1 a bag.

At 17 Mandy entered nursing training at the Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary, against the wishes of her father, who felt nurses were "bedpan carriers." He also wanted her to help on the farm. "I know he loved me," says Mandy. "He later told me he was sorry for not helping me." Mandy understood.

She recalled the first time she encountered death and how determined she was not to let the lady die. She also remembers a gruff speaking doctor saying, "Pneumonia cases always die." At that time, they usually died.

However, Mandy decided nursing wasn't for her and left after a year. She says the training has come in handy many times over the years. According to Mandy there's no top of the ladder. She believes that one should aim at doing their best at whatever they may get satisfaction from.

Two months after Mandy's father thought he had his hired hand home to stay, she and Ora (handyman) eloped. "We jumped out the window," it was 1925.

Ora and Mandy moved to Calgary where she did home nursing to help put her husband through barber school. "After that he never barbered," she says. "I swept hair up off my own floor. He was a barber wherever he went, but not for pay."

They worked on farms for a while. Their first child was born a year later.

In 1927 they spent three months on a dairy farm at Cranbrook, B.C. milking 40 cows twice a day. The owner delivered cream door-to-door and Mandy churned the leftover into butter, selling it for 25 cents a pound.

Their second baby was born in 1928. They moved to Ora's parents home near Beynon, in southern Alberta where Mandy cared for her mother-in-law until her death.

from her grandparents. They bought a truck and did general trucking for 12 years. They then returned to lake over the mine.

For one winter Mandy loaded "shot." Dynamite was used to blast the coal loose, and one blasting was called a shot. "I had an old horse to cart the coal up to the tippie with." She also cooked for the workers.

When they gave up mining they took a six-month holiday. They took Ora's father and uncle back to Michigan where they were born, picked up his aunt and went to Niagara Falls. "My husband and I had our honeymoon when we had been married 23 years. We went to Niagara and I had to sleep with Aunt Winn."

In 1944 Mandy took over the store and post office in Beynon. Four years later Ora went to work up north and Mandy worked in Calgary.

Ora bought heavy equipment and he and son Ivan went into business in the Red Water oil patch. Later Ora started breaking land and they started a strip mine on the south side of Lake Isle. But there was no market for coal and they lost money.

The Whitakers moved to their homestead in the Berrymore district in 1952, where they farmed. Ora went back to work clearing leases when oil was discovered in the area.

Ora died in 1967. Their son suffered from asthma and had to give up farming, so Mandy moved to Drayton Valley.

Mandy married Pete Malanney in 1970; he died in 1975.

Before cataracts started giving her problems Mandy enjoyed quilting and crocheting. She has 14 grand children and 19 great grandchildren.

Mandy always looks on the sunny side of life. Her motto is: "A sense of humor is God-given. Keep it. It doesn't have anything to carry it around."

New $1

First coins gone within half-hour

According to local banks reaction to the new one dollar coin has been positive, with little to no adverse reaction coming from bank customers.

"Acceptance has been good. There's been one complaint out of all the coins distributed," said Drayton Valley Credit Union branch manager Bill Palmer.

The 11 sided coin, struck by the Royal Canadian Mint, began circulation through Canadian banks following Canada Day holiday.

The light weight of the currency has surprised a majority of Bank of Nova Scotia customers says Jim Joyola, senior operations officer.

Sentiments have been similar at most local banking outlets. The gold color and size of the coin had customers fooled into thinking the currency too heavy to carry comfortably.

"Customers thought the coins could wear holes in their pockets, and were surprised with the lightness," said assistant manager of administration at the Royal Bank, David Gill.

The "loonies" have attracted the attention of those wishing to include them in a niece, nephew or grandchild's birthday card said Gill.

"Our first shipment (200 coins) was gone in a half-hour," he said.

Palmer agrees the new one dollar coin is a novelty item currently and a large number are purchased for keepsakes.

"The coins are starting to circulate," he said, adding, "Merchants are bringing them into the bank for deposits."

Until the one dollar note is taken out of circulation customers will have the choice of either the new coin or the note, explains Joyola.

"But, in 1989 the one dollar note, as we know it, will be obsolete," he said.

Crops ahead of normal

By Gerald Laarhuis
The Drayton Valley-Tomahawk-Bruton areas have, in general, received adequate rainfall. Crops are progressing ahead of normal with good growing conditions. Harvesting of forage crops is underway with good yields.

Indications are for an above average year as far as yields are concerned; but what about prices? Many farmers already have a large carryover of hay and grain from last year. The carryover resulted from a low demand and high quality of grain and forages. The unfavorable supply-demand situation resulted in extremely low prices.

Many producers feel another good crop this year will just add to the problems. However, that may not be the case. Grain prices have strengthened substantially from last winter. Hay prices have seen an even more marked increase in prices: rising from a low of $25/ton to a current price for last year's hay in the $35-$60/ton range.

The eastern area of Alberta is not a traditional area to market our hay, but it is to our advantage — they are not only closer, which makes transport costs lower, they are also feeding cows — large consumers of hay.

Our office has received numerous calls from farmers in the eastern Alberta area inquiring about available pasture and hay. We currently have request for pasture for approximately 1600 cattle in groups of 20 to 300 head.

We encourage anyone with surplus pasture to give us a call — we can put you in touch with several farmers who need it. Also, we are starting a hay listing for farmers with hay for sale — either last year's or new crop. It appears the demand will be strong.

To have your hay or pasture tested with us we will need some basic information: the type, number and quality of the bales and a reasonable asking price. Our office number is 542-5388 or drop by the provincial building in Drayton Valley

Stony Plain

Senior's death needless — campaigner

By Philip McHenry
The boding death of former Stony Plain Farmer's Day Pioneer King Willie Kronshage, would never have happened had he stayed in Stony Plain, says the man behind the campaign to bring auxiliary care beds to Stony Plain.

Reinhold Sturtz, who knew Kronshage for about eight or nine years, says keeping seniors in familiar surroundings would have minimized the chance of such incidents.

"I feel if people were in their home, these things probably wouldn't happen."

"I've stated before, these people know each other."

Sturtz, whose 76-year-old wife was transferred to an Edmonton auxiliary hospital in April, has been circulating a petition to have some beds in the Good Samaritan nursing home converted to auxiliary care standards.

Kronshage died June 26 in an Edmonton hospital a few weeks after being hit on the head with a cane in his Herdity Nursing Home residence.

An avid gardener, he was chosen Farmers' Day Pioneer King in 1984.

Meanwhile, Sturtz continues to press his campaign for auxiliary care. Having collected more than 1500 names, he's now waiting for petition sheets from eight assistants to be returned before he can present them to Stony Plain M.L.A. Jim Heron.

Sheets asking for names in support of auxiliary care beds in Stony Plain have been circulated in Evansburg, Onoway, Drayton Valley and Alberta Beach while some names have even come in from Edmonton and Leduc.

However, he's received little assistance from local (Stony Plain) seniors.

Although the Senior Citizen's Society of Stony Plain board of directors approved a resolution supporting the petition, the society hasn't become actively involved in the campaign.

"Somehow everyone has been tied up," explained seniors secretary treasurer Alec Boychuk. "The society really hasn't done very much."

Boychuk, who attended the original meeting involving Stony Plain and Good Samaritan Nursing Centre administrators, said he'd be raising the matter with society president Harkin Chaffee and discussing whether the society should be officially recognized when Sturtz presents the petition to Heron.

The towns may be in danger of losing the project because of seeming indifference, said Sturtz.

"The Spruce Grove people, those that signed the petition, they said to me, 'why not in Spruce Grove?'"

"So they're welcoming this. They wouldn't say no to this, if Stony says no. They'd (Stony Plain residents) better be careful or they'll lose the project."

Stony seniors should be more vocal. "Nobody likes to say anything, but when they get together, they speak about it. They like these things, but they won't get out there and work on it, push," he said.
